jured and 2 Are Reported MissingDisasters to the oil industry in the west and southwest in the last five days have cost 57 lives and approximately $15,000,000. They are as follows:April 7—Fire caused by lightning burned thousands of barrels of gasoline at the Union Oil Company of California tank farm at San Luis Obispo, Calif. Extinguished after three days with a loss of two lives and upwards of $7,000,000.April 7—Lightning struck a tank on

at New Orleans killed five.April 9—Fire at the Magnolia Petroleum Co's tank farm at Luling, Texas, caused a loss of $100,000.April 9—The Standard Oil tanker Thomas H. Wheeler and the Dutch steamer Silvanus collided in the lower Mississippi river near New Orleans.
Twenty five dead. The loss to the O.
T. Waring, Thomas H. Wheeler and the Silvanus is estimated at $3,000,000.April 11—Explosion aboard the Gulf Refining Company's tanker Gulf of Venezuela, at Port Arthur, Texas, snuffed out 25 lives and causes a loss of about $1,000,000.Port Arthur, Texas — (AP) — The blackened hulk of the oil tanker Gulf of Venezuela Monday rode quietly on the waters of Port Arthur bay where early Sunday a gasoline explosion aboard her tore out her vitals and killed 25 men, climaxing a week of oil disasters in the southwest.The buckled plates, scorched sides and twisted superstructure of the tank left a mute story of how the metal of the ship was heated to a glaring whiteness in two furious hours during which the 25 men were incinerated.Following the quiet night with a terrific detonation while the men sleep in their quarters aft, the explosion, as sudden as it was mysterious, shot a flame of burning gasoline 150 feet into the air. The blast took several members of the crew with it and left the hungry flames in a shell of hungry flame.None who slept in the quarters of the crew escaped, but several of those who were on deck were saved with more or less serious injuries.
The toll of injured Monday stood at 10 in the hospital, with two missing.The cause early Monday remained undetermined, but it was the opinion of refinery men that the explosion was due to the overflowing of a compartment, the gasoline coming in contact with steam pipes. One of the injured men in the hospital is quoted as saying a compartment overflowed as it was being filled.The disaster is the seventh serious loss of the oil industry in the last week, including two oil tank fires in Texas resulting from lightning. A preliminary survey of the Gulf of Venezuela indicated, according to officials of the Gulf Refining Co., that the ship could be recommissioned for about $300,000. A large part of the gasoline cargo of about 85,000 barrels can be salvaged, it was said.The ship was preparing to sail Sunday for England.It was shortly before dawn—while gasoline still was being pumped into her compartments—that the explosion occurred. The blast shook the ship as an inferno, and the screams of men being burned alive could be heard from the dock to which she was warped. Those on deck were either blown into the water or over the docks. Two were seen to go over with their clothing afire like flaming rockets. The force of the explosion apparently drove A. C. Schultz through a port hole a hospital attendant found him on the dock with a port hole ring tightly about his body. The attendant had to tie the ring loose before he could remove Schultz. The injured man said he had no recollection of what had happened.4

Decide Senate Seat IssueEasterners Favor Brookhart to Protect Cummins from CompetitionBY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1926, Post Pub. Co.Washington — There's a nice little struggle going on inside the Republican party as to what should be done about the seating or unseating of Senator Brookhart of Iowa. Some of the younger senators like Reed of Pennsylvania, Bingham of Connecti-cute, and Wadsworth of New York are leaning toward Mr. Brookhart.
Senators James Watson of Indiana, Senator Regulars of the Republican party are supporting the proposal of the committee to unseat Mr. Brookhart and declare Daniel Steck, democrat to have been elected.Is it an effort to divest the western regulars of their strength and create a new "old guard"? The Democrats who are watching the fluctuations in the cloakroom voting are getting restive and impatient. They declare the eastern republicans are flirting with the western progressive group and that if politics is going to govern the ultimate voting, they will in all probability follow the same tactics on the Italian debt ratification and other questions.As matters stand now Mr. Brookhart could be unseated by a majority vote of his colleagues, made up of most of the Democrats and a large number of Republicans. The committee report which was presented to senate by Senator Ernst of Kentucky, Republican, is held by the Democrats to be very convincing. Mr. Butler of Massachusetts was reported to have been persuaded that never-theless he should stand with the eastern Republicans and vote for Mr. Brookhart whereupon stories were published to the effect that President Coolidge disapproved. Anyway, Mr. Butler is now said to be ready to vote against
Senator Brookhart.IT IS A QUESTION OF POLITICS
The influence of the private discussion of the case is apparent on all sides. The eastern republicans are holding forth the olive branch to Mr.
Brookhart thinking they will have hisvote but that if they seat him there will be less chance of Senator Cummins, regular Republican, losing at the polls this fall. If Mr. Brookhart is unseated, he will enter the primaries against Senator Cummins and will get the usual martyr vote plus his own strength which is not inconsiderable. The eastern regulars therefore are afraid they will lose a Republican seat if they oust Mr. Brookhart and that when he comes back to the senate he will be even more of an insurgent Republican than before.They reason that if they help him in the senate he will be obligated to help the regulars on many matters of legislation. Quite the same reasoning was applied by the late Senator Penrose, Republican when almost single handed he saw to it that his own party did not punish the late Senator La-Follette for his utterances during the war.The vote will be close. But when it is taken it will leave many scars.
If Mr. Steck is not given the seat he is believed by his supporters to have won at the polls, the Democrats in the senate will have been antagonized and they may make considerable trouble for Senator Cummins when he enters the primary. It is, for example, an open secret in Iowa that when Mr. Brookhart was nominated the last time he had considerable support at the Republican primaries from Democrats. Should another Brookhart arise in Iowa to oppose Mr.
Cummins, there may be a realignment of elements which may cost the regular republicans a seat anyway.IT IS DIFFICULT PROBLEM
So the whole situation is perplexing—and Senator Brookhart is the most perplexed of all. For he doesn't know who are his friends and allies after all. The Democrats who went along with the insurgent Republican group on so many occasions are lined up against him and his insurgent allies. The eastern regulars who absolutely oppose all his doctrines are figuring out how to help him stay in the senate. The saying that politics makes strange bed-fellows was never better illustrated than in the Brookhart-Steck election contest. And there's room for politics because of the many ambiguously marked ballots which leave to the senate to judge the intent of the Iowa voters.SEISMOGRAPH RECORDS

IOWA SENATOR
NEARING ENDSenate Agrees to Wind Up Arguments on Brookhart
and Steck TodayWashington, D. C. — (AP) — The senate was under agreement Monday to wind up its debate on the Iowa senatorial contest and make its decision before tonight.The agreement provided for the shutting off of unlimited debate which consumed all of last week, at 3 p. m.
with senators limited to 15 minutes each thereafter, and the beginning of the roll call at 5 o'clock. The outcome will determine whether Smith W. Brookhart, Republican insurgent, retains the place he now occupies in the senate, or is to be unseated in favor of Daniel F. Steck, his Democratic opponent in the 1924 election.
It also will determine whether Mr.
Brookhart will enter the Iowa primaries in June as an opponent of Senator Albert S. Cummins, a supporter of administration policies.Arguing that the burden of proof rests with Steck to show that Brookhart had been received in the senate illegally, Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, told the senate Monday that no such evidence had been produced."Senator Brookhart was legally certified elected by a plurality of 755 votes," he said. "The only way in which he can be thrown out is under the law and not by guesses and stipulations. Before the ballots can be counted there must be strict proof that the ballots have been properly preserved.""Mr. Steck has failed utterly in this proof. These ballots without this proof became merely pieces of paper and would not be received as evidence by any reputable body in the United States."Reviewing the work of the elections subcommittee, Senator Reed referred to Blair Coan, who figured in the Daugherty investigation as "the man back of this movement" to unseat Brookhart."He went to Iowa, the Missouri senator continued. "To punish Brookhart because Brookhart was one of the senators who took part in the investigation of Harry Daugherty. Reed contended that in all there were 3,500 ballots missing, and that Steck must prove he had a majority in excess of 3,500 before he could claim a seat in the senate."$60,000 OSHKOSH FIRE overcome by fumes from burning paint materials when a portion of the casket and chair factory of the Buck-staff co was badly damaged by fire Saturday evening. Four were taken to Mercy hospital and five were taken home. The other two quickly recov-

FUNDS SHORT, CASHIER
OF BANK KILLS HIMSELFLudlow, Ky. — (AP) — Thomas Balaly, cashier of the Farmers' and Mechanics' bank this city, who admitted that he was between $30,000 and $40,000 short in his accounts shot and killed himself when in the basement of the bank Monday.Examination of the books of the bank disclosed a shortage of $65,000 in the accounts of Balaly, it was announced last night.Balaly at the time said the shortage was caused principally by bad business investments. He devoted all his property to the bank in restitution. This consisted of a farm Balaly valued at $70,000 and the lots at $5, 000.ANDREWS ESCAPES
DEATH IN CHINA
BY CLOSE MARGINPeking — (AP) — Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews, American scientist and explorer, had a narrow escape from death here Monday.While at the railway station outside of east gate of the city, arranging for the transportation of supplies for his fourth expedition into the Gobi desert, he was caught in an air raid conducted by the Chinese allied forces against the Kuomintang.Dr. Andrews, as the planes came overhead, scrambled under a freight car. The planes dropped several bombs, two of which fell 20 feet from the explorer's refuge, splintering the sheltering car with fragments of steel.Five Chinese were killed and nine injured during the raid, the object of which apparently was to destroy national army equipment park on the railway sidings.STEEL WORKER ADMITS MURDERTriangle Results in Death of Husband and Arrest of BoarderGary, Ind. — (AP) — W. A. Donaldson Monday confessed to the police that he shot and killed Joe Mullins last Thursday night after three other efforts he and Mrs. Virginia Mullins, the slain man's widow, planned had miscarried. Donaldson and Mrs. Mullins confessed several years of intimacy led them to plan Mullins' death.Donaldson, 33-year-old steel worker, was a boarder in the Mullins home.
Donaldson worked nights and was home days while Mullins also was employed as a steel worker.Their confessions were that Mrs.
Mullins, who is 44 years old, induced her husband to walk through a long part of East park, ostensibly on a visit to neighbors, and that Donaldson stepped from a hiding place behind some shrubbery and fired two shots into Mullins' body. Mullins died without regaining consciousness.Mrs. Mullins charged Donaldson with instigation of the slaying and asserted that he had led her astray. She is the mother of five children, ranging in age from 12 to 23 years.The Mullins first met Donaldson in renting a room in their home. Mrs.
Mullins said. Donaldson induced her husband to increase his life insurance and then when Mullins dropped in arrears with his premiums, Donaldson

SHOW COURT ATTITUDEChicago, Ill. — (AP) — The first opportunity for a constituency to express its feeling toward a vote for world court adherence by a senator will be offered in the Illinois primary Tuesday.In addition, another question of current national interest—prohibition—will be centered in the scrambled and fantastical factional struggles.The world court issue revolves around the fight for the Republican nomination for United States senator, with Senator Wm. B. McKinley defending his world court vote on the premise of party regularity and in support of President Coolidge. His opponent, Frank L. Smith, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, has made this point his chief campaign issue virtually demanding a referendum on Senator McKinley's vote on the world court session.Chief interest in the Democratic contest has been centered in the "island" campaign of George Brennan, a national party man for two decades, who decided to run for an elective office to bring attention to the prohibition question. He has pledged his energetic support toward repealing or amending the prohibition act if elected.His opponents are James T. McDermott, former congressman, and James
O. Monroe.PROMOTE WISCONSIN

ActionMadison — (AP) — Governor Blaine Monday protested to Speaker Longworth of the House of representatives against contemplated dismissal of Representative James A. Frear, Republican, Wisconsin from the House committee on Indian affairs. In a telegram to Speaker Longworth, the governor stated: "Report persists that Representative James A. Frear differs with the administration on Indian affairs. Has an American congress come to the place where members of its committees are to be dismissed because they differ on policy with the administration. There is a little independence left to the American people and exercising that I protest such contemplated action."The action of the board of regents rejecting endowments, Professor Hen-mon revealed, halted negotiations for financial assistance for three large research projects in education at Wisconsin."We were to receive endowments for research from these sources," Professor Henmon said. "But the resolution of the regents arrested all developments in the projects I had planned."I. C. C. PROBES REASONS FOR ELECTRIFYING ROADNew York — (AP) — John D. Ryan, owner of large copper interests and former director of Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway Monday said that he had favored electrification of the Puget Sound division because of the increase demand for copper and power. He testified to this effect before the Interstate Commerce commission hearing into the collapse of the road, which some stockholders had alleged was hastened by the electrification work.Answering all questions put to him directly and freely Mr. Ryan also stated that he believed that and still does, that electrifications of the Puget Sound system was for the best interests of the road.OVER 400 ROTARIANS

In Europe With "Peaches"New York — (AP) — Edward W.
Browning, wealthy 51 year old real estate operator and his 15 year old bride, Frances, are planning an immediate honeymoon trip to Europe. The bride however, was still under summons to appear in Children's court next Thursday in proceedings brought by the society for the prevention of cruelty to children, seeking to have her removed from the custody of her mother.The summons was issued before the marriage, which was performed by a justice of the peace at Cold Springs Saturday afternoon.The Children's society alleges that Mrs. Catherine Heenan was unfit to be her daughter's guardian.Mrs. Heenan and her husband, from whom she is separated attended the wedding. They and less than a dozen other persons including some of the bride's friends from Manhattan constituted the party. Immediately after the ceremony the couple went to a 10 room house in Cold Springs, which Browning had leased for a year, late Sunday night. The couple left Cold Springs, for New York City.Vincent T. Pisarra, superintendent of the Children's society said the guardians hearing would proceed on Thursday.Browning's adopted daughter, Dorothy Sunshine, has yet to meet her step mother who is only five years older than herself.

WIZARD DIES

LUTHER BURBANK

BURBANK DIES
AT HOME AFTER
BRIEF ILLNESSFriend Tells Plant Wizard's Love Story After His DeathSanta Rosa, Calif. — (AP) — Crushed as a youth when the flower of his love wilted and died, Luther Burbank sought solace in the culture of earthly plants. That in brief is the hidden story of the life of the eminent scientist who lay in the quiet sleep of death in his garden wonderland here Monday.The end came early Sunday morning. None of the friends and neighbors of Burbank during the fifty odd years he worked miracles in the plant kingdom here knew the story.They knew him for his inspired devotion to the friendly trees and flowers among which he worked with untiring zeal—knew him for the wonders he wrought.To Edgar A. Waite of the San Francisco Bulletin in whom he had confidence, Burbank opened up the chapter of his life that resulted in his turning his energies and talent toward the services of mankind.
Waite was given permission to publish the story only after Burbank's death.SIMPLE FUNERAL Unostentatious in life, Burbank willed that his last rites be simple.
Judge Edgar B. Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court, a life time friend was on his way to take a leading part in the final services. The Masonic order, which had conferred upon Burbank the 33rd degree, will perform the ritual of the dead.At Burbank's request, Judge Lindsey will recite the famous general oration which Robert Ingersoll noted agreed spoke at the bier of his brother, Ethan C. Ingersoll, in Washington, D. C. in 1879.Burbank's last resting place has not yet been definitely decided upon, although his friends hope to lay him to rest in the midst of the garden he loved so well.Burbank's last written words were of the spiritual nature of man.
"Do I ignore what is generally called the spiritual nature of man?
It is the corona, the flower of life, the fruit of which is altruism, the desire to help ourselves and others to higher and better thoughts and actions—in other words to a more perfect state of harmony and environment."His last illness came shortly after he made the announcement that he was "infidel" explaining that he merely meant he was unable to accept the arbitrary, man-made creeds and orthodox ideas of heaven and hell.There was much cross questioning of the witnesses and after the hearing concluded, Mrs. Peabody made this statement to newspaper men:
"I wish you would make it clear that our time was taken up with useless cross questioning."The wets will resume their presentation Tuesday and the dries will resume their defense about midweek after their opponents are through.During the hearing Mrs. Peabody was questioned by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, and she told him in reply to his first interrogation that the only change in the Volstead act to which the women would agree would be a move to give it more power."Are you satisfied with section 25 of the Volstead act?" Senator Reed asked."I am not acquainted with that section," Mrs. Peabody said."That is the section about fruit juices," put in Senator Harrell, Republican, Oklahoma."We stand for the strongest thing in enforcement and the weakest thing in liquor," Mrs. Peabody replied, and the crowded committee room broke into applause.Mrs. E. H. Silverthorn, president of the Federation of Women's Boards of Foreign Missions, said she appeared for prohibition on behalf of 5,000,000 members of the foreign mission board."All the time is looking to American on this great question of probi-tion," she said. "They are weighing and judging what America is doing."
Others of the witnesses passed before the committee in rapid succession.
Some talked for only a minute and were excused without cross examination.Martha Hamon of New York, a tennant colonel in the Salvation army, appearing as the representative of Commander Booth, and conditions among the poor had improved under

Heard from by WetsWashington — (AP) — From many walks of life and from many states of the union feminine voices Monday called upon Senate liquor committee to stand firmly behind the Volstead act. More than three score women witnesses gathered here for a meeting of the Women's National committee for law enforcement, either testified against modification of the dry law or filed statements arguing for its preservation. They said they spoke for more than 12,000,000 of their sisters.Many of the women were officials of the outstanding women's organizations. Through their leader, Mrs.
Henry W. Peabody, of Massachusetts, they voiced the sentiment of "the homes, the church and the school."Two of them took part in the wet side of the modification campaign.
Mrs. Nell G. Burger of Missouri, speaking for the Women's C. T. U., told Senator Reed of the state that prohibition had been of immeasurable benefit in Missouri and later Mrs.
Haines Lippincott, presenting a dry petition on behalf of residents of New Jersey, said that Senator Edge had resisted the last time by being "wet in some counties and dry in others."WETS WERE PARTIAL Mrs. William Tilton, head of the parents teacher movement, suggested to the committee, that in last week's presentation of the wet side of the controversy there had been some important "silences." Neither the woman, the churches, the farmers, north the south or the far west she said had contributed to the outpouring of wet testimony which was interrupted Monday to permit the women to open the case for the dry.With many references to the "wet

mittee to draw no hasty conclusions

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Mostly fair tonight, not so cool Tuesday increasing cloudiness, warmer in south and central portions.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
High pressure over the Lake region and central states this morning, with generally fair weather. A low pressure area is moving slowly across the southern states, with rain from Oklahoma eastward. Another "low" is developing in the west and northwest, with increasing cloudiness over the extreme northern plains and rains over the "low" moving across the international border, increasing southerly winds may be expected in this section tonight and Tuesday, with rising temperatures and probably some cloudiness, though it is doubtful if rain will fall this far south with this disturbance.

CHIMNEY SPARKS FIRE FARM HOME

Two Families Rendered Homeless by Fire Near Black Creek Saturday

Fire originating from sparks from a chimney completely destroyed the farm home of William Kettner, Sr., route 4, three miles northwest of the village of Black Creek Saturday morning. The entire roof of the house was ablaze before the family noticed smoke and sparks through the window. The house was an old frame structure and burned to the ground in about a half hour. A small amount of bedding and clothing and a few chairs were saved. The village fire department was called but was unable to save the building because of the strong west wind. None of the barns, which are located near the house, were burned. The loss is estimated at about $3,000, part of which is covered by insurance.

STURGEON BAY MAN IN APPLETON PULPIT

The Rev. G. D. Yeakum of Sturgeon Bay supplied the pulpit of the First Congregational church Sunday morning in the absence of Dr. H. E. Peabody who preached at the First Congregational church in Madison. Creative Faith was the subject of Mr. Yeakum's sermon.

WIFE WINS DIVORCE AND FORMER NAME

A divorce was granted to Beulah Melum, route 2, Appleton, from John Lawrence Melum of Chicago, Saturday in municipal court. The charge was cruel and inhuman treatment. The couple was married in 1923 at Green Bay. They have no children. The husband is now engaged in driving a taxi cab in Chicago. The decree allows the wife to resume her maiden name of Beulah French.

ARREST DRUNK FOR VIOLATING PAROLE

Paul Morawek, who is under sheriff's parole, is held at the county jail pending correspondence with the state board of control to determine what procedure will be taken in his case, following his arrest by the Appleton police for intoxication Sunday.

BUILDING PERMITS

Permits for building projects estimated to cost $3,170 were issued last week by George Peotter, building inspector. This was a sharp decrease from the value of construction work for which permits were issued the week before, according to Mr. Peotter. Permits the past week were granted for the construction of five garages, a chicken coop and for the remodeling of a residence. The last mentioned was the largest undertaking, the estimated cost being $2,500.

NEIGHBORS SAVE MERCHANDISE IN BIG STORE FIRE

House and Store of Robert Lotz, Town of Sheridan, Destroyed

Waupaca—With fire raging through the general store and residence of Robert Lotz in the town of Sheridan five miles west of this city, Sunday morning, neighbors carried merchandise and house furnishings valued at approximately $17,000 out of the building, saving most of the personal property. Both buildings, which were situated only a few feet from each other, were completely destroyed. The loss is estimated at about $7,000. Insurance covers about half the loss.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. An alarm was turned in and within 10 or 15 minutes all neighbors within a radius of several miles had arrived on the scene to help battle the flames and save what property they could. The fire had gained such headway when discovered that it was impossible to save the buildings. All efforts were directed toward carrying out as much property as possible. The fire started in the attic of the residence and quickly spread to the nearby store. Cause of the fire is unknown.

The salvaged goods were stored in a building across the road. About ten tons of feed was taken out of the building before the goods could be stored in it. Mr. Lotz's store was the only one in the territory. He will continue his business in the building where his goods are stored pending construction of a new store.

APPLETON HAS FEW FLU CASES

City Escapes Epidemic Which Is Taking Hold Throughout State

Although many parts of the state are experiencing epidemics of influenza, Appleton thus far has been exceedingly fortunate in escaping with a minimum number of cases. Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer reported Friday. Many persons have become afflicted with colds during the past week or so, but victims of "flu" germs have been few, according to Mr. Sanders.

"The most important of all measures is sufficient rest for the person coming down with the disease," is the caution of the state board of health. "Under ordinary circumstances, the patient should remain in bed and not get up until well after the fever and acute symptoms have subsided. Many cases of pneumonia occur because of the failure to observe proper care during attacks of grip (influenza)."

The public should not relax in its caution just because the present outbreak is of the mild form of influenza is further warning given. The department says that whatever the type of the disease, the same precautions as were observed during the great epidemic in 1918 should be exercised now. The contagion is spread by secretions from the mouth and nose, and in combating it the following measures are recommended.

Washing the hands before eating and avoiding putting the fingers to the mouth; avoiding the common drinking cup and towel; keeping out of crowds so far as one's business permits; muzzling every cough and sneeze; keeping the body and feet warm and avoiding chills; maintaining reasonable and comfortable ventilation in home and workrooms; having a physician's advice on what to do when one comes down with influenza. "In no other disease," it concludes "is the value of prompt isolation and complete rest in bed of such value both to the community and patient. No suspicious symptom is too unimportant to neglect or overlook. An ounce of prevention beats a pound of cure, and forewarned is forearmed."

Secret Lives!

In every human life, sooner or later, there comes a crisis. Something of great consequence happens. It may be a crisis in an affair of love or marriage, or some other tangle of human relationship. It may be honor that is threatened, fortune that is imperiled, happiness that is endangered. Even life itself may be at stake.

The world is full of such dramas—dramas of love and hate, of temptation and wrong, of struggle, defeat, triumph and tragedy. But most of these comedies and tragedies are played behind a curtain of secrecy and silence. We learn about them only when their stories are told.

True Story Magazine for May is rich in just such stories—true-life narratives that grip the imagination, tug at the heartstrings, and leave you inspired by what you have read. Don't miss this wonderful issue.

WHERE LOWEST PRICES PREVAIL

To Those Who Judge Quality by Price

The quality of Ford cars cannot be judged by the prices at which they are sold—because Ford prices are made possible by conditions that are absolutely unique in the automotive industry.

From mine to market the Ford car is the work of a single organization. The Company owns and operates the mines and forests that furnish the raw materials for its products. This material is carried over Ford transportation routes, fabricated in Ford mills, manufactured in Ford plants—and the finished product is sold to the public through the Ford dealer organization. Thus there is but a single manufacturing profit on the car.

The following statement, previously made in an advertising message, is repeated here, because of its great significance to the motoring public:

"If any other manufacturer endeavored to produce a car similar to the Ford, according to the high standards of quality in material and workmanship used by the Ford Motor Company and with the same tried and proved design, it would be impossible to offer it at any thing like Ford prices. And it is well to note that even with less costly design they have not been able to meet Ford prices."

If you contemplate the purchase of a motor car, go to the salesroom of the nearest Authorized Ford Dealer and get acquainted with the greatest automobile value of all time.

ATHEISTS AND CHAPLAINS
Atheists are objecting to the employment of chaplains by the government. They want to banish such functionaries from congress and from the army and navy, on the ground that religious jobs are unconstitutional in a country that is supposed to keep church and state separate. Furthermore, their organization, the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, proposes to hold an "atheists' banquet" in Washington, to make a public demonstration of their attitude.

This makes many good people unnecessarily excited. It is a curious spectacle, rather than a menacing one. Why, anyone might ask, should people who profess to have no faith at all feel it necessary to band themselves together to assert their disbelief in God, and try to convert others to it? Zeal in behalf of any faith is comprehensible. Zeal in behalf of a lack of faith contradicts itself. Can you convert people to nothing?

The fact is probably that these militant unbelievers are really harassed by doubt, and band together for mutual support. This is a free country. Religious freedom implies the right to have any religion, or no religion, according to individual preference. From the religious man, who has positive faith, we expect no more than modest assertion; and from the non-religious man, we might reasonably expect silence.

If the time ever comes that the United States of America, where there is more religious as well as political freedom than in any other nation of the world, turns from the teachings of Jesus Christ as the foundation of its government and its policies, and becomes so contemptuous of religion as to bar chaplains and prayer from its legislative halls, it will be on the road to hopeless ruin.

OIL MONOPOLY
The government, it appears, is going to unscramble the "oil trust" again. There used to be just one such trust. Since the Standard was dissolved, it is alleged, the parts have worked together, if not grown together; and some of them are as big as the parent trust ever was. In addition, a lot of other companies are said to have joined in the game, adopting trust practices if not using actual trust machinery.

It does not matter whether there is one big monopolistic company, or half a hundred, if the half-hundred operate as one, which is what the government accuses them of doing. Whether the oil companies, big and little, have been gouging the public and breaking the anti-trust law is for the department of justice to prove and for the court to say.

This much, however, is patent to any observant citizen: The oil companies have nearly all been making plenty of money, as their profit sheets and stock dividends and market quotations show. The public has been paying a good deal for gasoline, and has never been able to understand why, if there were no monopolistic practices, prices of all companies selling in a given territory should consistently move up or down together.

If the Standard has been breaking the law, it looks as if a lot of professed "independents" have found satisfaction and profit in breaking the law along with it. We may discover, as the case progresses, what an independent oil company is, as well as what an oil trust is.

LAWFUL HIGHBALLS
A prominent Englishman visiting this country gives a formula for a drink which he explains is "entirely within the law," yet which gives almost the same results as an alcoholic beverage. Wet hopes, however, may be dashed on examination of the formula. The drink is a "tea highball." It is made by using four times the ordinary amount of tea to water. The infusion is bottled, and served cold with carbonated water.
Very likely it will accomplish the purpose for which alcoholic beverages are usually drunk, as far as exhilarating quality is concerned. Theodore Roosevelt tells in one of his books how he discovered, early in his experience of camping life, that tea is better than whisky as a stimulant for a tired man. There is bound to be a difference, however, in the ultimate effect of tea highballs and the usual kind. The former will keep the drinker awake; the latter will put him to sleep.

BALANCED WEATHER
Speaking of the weather, with special reference to the weather of this past winter and present spring, the head of the weather station at Victoria, B. C., says: "Nature is still maintaining a perfect balance."
Now don't mistake this scientist's meaning. "When we survey the world weather conditions," he explains, "we find that the weather everywhere has been abnormal—not just in one place. Abnormally cold in one place, abnormally warm in another, abnormal floods in one section and abnormal drought in another."

The point is that all these abnormalities, by some curious working of an inscrutable Providence, make a sort of general normality. The opposites cancel each other. The conflicting forces are equalized. Which is all very well as far as the Universe is concerned, but what we want hereabouts is a little local normalcy and balance.

FOLLOWING GROUP INSTINCT
If you were grouchy this morning, or unburdened yourself of a "catty" remark, you're simply following your group instinct, according to Prof. R. J. Colbert of the University of Wisconsin. Panics and runs on banks start in the same way, the professor observes.

The professor cites the case of a teacher, who by continually stroking her hair finally conveyed the impression to several of her pupils that the hair should be kept smooth.

Perhaps you have noticed that the prestige of a prominent man is often built up by the implications of his associates and by the right use of suggestion. There is still a lot of the copy-cat in us all. Much of our thinking is done in mobs. Only by standing away, and taking the part of a casual observer once in a while, will we acquire independence and originality.

TODAY'S POEM
By HAL COCHRAN
Well, I guess I'll go golfin', says I to myself, While takin' my golf toes down off of the shelf.
The sun's shinin' bright and I'm achin' to play,
I'll bet I can break the course record today.
I got me all set, and I cranked the machine, Hot doggitly dog, but my interest was keen.
And then, of a sudden, the plans all went wrong when the misus called out, "Say, can I go along?"
We reached the first tee and my wife took her drive. She holed out in ten, but declared it was five.
It's rather bad form, on the green, if you speak, I was mum when she started to putt with her clique.
'Twas into a sand-pit and plunk in a brook, 'Twas to a "tee" and "shim" and dubbin' and hook. When nine holes had passed, I declared 'twas enough.
A fellow gets tired when he ploughs through the rough.
My best club is broken, I'm seven balls shy. Our score, at the end of the nine holes was tie. An that, 'twas a record I made, like as not—the most strokes that anyone ever has shot.

Do your June marrying early and avoid the rush.
Judging by the past the strings in spring shoes will not last as long as the shoes.
The only trouble with laughing at your troubles is you soon run out of troubles to laugh at.
While your wife is spring cleaning it is best for you to wear the suit of clothes you want to keep.
A straw hat is a round object which you put in a chair and somebody sits on the darn thing.
Our chief kick against spring is it doesn't fall on a holiday.
Our philosophy is that the world ends every night and starts out new again every morning.
Birds building their nests seem happy. They don't try to make them larger than they did last year.
Spring clothes look fine on slender people, but don't feel so well on slender incomes.
Telling a girl how cold your feet stay on winter nights may save her from marrying you this spring.
Court your fingers thoroughly after shaking hands with one of these fellows who call you "broth er."

DON'T FORGET TO BRUSH YOUR TONSILS
Contrary to the belief of some people who fail to find the symptoms or a prescription here, it is not my aim to be funny, flippant, sarcastic, sensational, peculiar, unorthodox or unconventional, though I should try to be all of these things if I thought that would help along the idea. My object is to teach certain principles of hygiene to well folk, not so much to sick people, and in the pursuit of that object I do not hesitate to tip over any apple cart that impedes the way. I am prepared to uphold everything I say here, or to retract it and make the amende honorable if it is not right. At the same time I invite and never fail to give courteous consideration to sincere criticism offered by responsible persons.

When a dentist tipped over my apple cart the other day I took the verbal spanking he gave me in the same good spirit with which he applied it. He said my teachings about tooth brushing are dangerous, that I have "peculiar and lonely ideas" about that practice and its relation to oral hygiene and that "so called dirt on the teeth consists of starches from clean food, lime salts, and mucus from the saliva," and that any dirt on the toothbrush comes there because it has been brushed off the teeth and it might better be on the brush than on the teeth. Finally my dentist friend asserted in cruel newspaper type that everybody could read just that far from being an unclean object to put in one's mouth, the old toothbrush may be made perfectly clean, bacterially negative, by rinsing it with a strong stream of water and then shaking some salt on the bristles and hanging the brush up to dry until next using.

If that is all dirt is, why brush it off from the teeth? The mucus is a protective covering or film, which tends to entangle bacteria and render them incapable of doing any harm. Rather a bad policy, brushing the away, I believe. Starches are not unclean. Dentists who have conducted careful studies and animal experiments conclude that the old theory, that lactic or other acids formed by the bacterial fermentation of starches or sugars on the teeth and between the teeth eat away the enamel or start a cavity, is untenable. It never did seem a reasonable notion. As for lime salts, it is news that they are injurious to the teeth. A deficiency of lime salts in the diet of the town dweller is assigned by nutrition experts as one of the causes of defective teeth.

In the article which aroused my dentist friend's rejoinder I said I didn't believe brushing saved any teeth; that anybody who wished to keep his teeth should visit the dentist regularly twice a year to have his teeth inspected, cleaned and if necessary repaired.

If tooth brushing is good hygiene—and I repeat I see no harm in it if one likes to brush his teeth—then we ought to have another brush with an elongated handle to brush our tonsils with, for they seem to decay early when neglected. And to carry the idea on to its logical end, one should have a soft brush on a very long flexible handle, sort of a probang, one's toilet equipment, for think of all the starches, lime salts, mucus and stuff in one's stomach after a hearty meal! Then some manufacturing genius might "perfect" the probang by applying a little jointed attachment for giving one's gall sac a thorough cleaning every morning before breakfast—I suppose Dr. Lyon who introduced non-surgical biliary drainage would be glad to waive his rights in such an invention.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
No Value
What food value has... over gelatin? How about its use in the feeding of babies? (Mrs. W. E.)
Answer—The preparation you mention is one of the proprietary gelatin preparations. Gelatin has no real food value, but serves only as a makeshift protein sparer. It has no value in the feeding of babies, in my opinion.

BIDS FOR PAVING
ON DODGE STREETBridge Over Creek to Be Enlarged to Do Away With Flood Menace

Kaukauna—The city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for 150 feet of permanent paving on Dodge street from the main line of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad right of way and extending east to the Konkrapot bridge and for repairs to the Konkrapot bridge including a forty-five foot bridge extension to be built on the west side of the present bridge, at a meeting of the city council Saturday night.

For many years the lowlands in that part of the city were inundated each spring by water coming down Konkrapot creek and many times it was necessary to blast away large cakes of ice that jammed against the bridge, which was entirely too small to handle the great quantity of water brought down stream and instead of permuting the water to pass on under the bridge it is held back and soon the entire surrounding territory was under water. Traffic on the south side of the river road was often held up for days.

A bill for additional filling in on the new bridge by the McCarty Construction company was allowed.

PIONEER SETTLER IS DEAD AT KAUKAUNA

Kaukauna—Mrs. Sophia Merbach, 81, widow of the late John Merbach, died at her home at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon after an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Merbach was born in Germany and was one of the pioneer settlers in Kaukauna. She and her husband drove to Kaukauna from Chicago with a yoke of oxen in the early fifties, when there were no roads in this part of the country. They settled on 80 acres of land about four miles outside of the present city limits. Later they moved into the city.

Survivors are eight sons, Henry of Riverside, Calif., Peter and William of Drake, N. D., Fred of Kaukauna, Charles of Neenah, Albert, Louis and John of the town of Harrison.

PUSH PLANS FOR NEW
CATHOLIC CHURCH HERE

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Another step towards construction of a new Catholic church in this city was taken by Most Precious Blood congregation on Sunday, when definite plans were made for the establishment of a sufficient building fund to warrant the starting of the work. A packet of 12 envelopes was handed out to each member of the congregation. One of these envelopes, with a donation towards the building fund, will be turned in during the services in church on each third Sunday of the month. This system will continue for the ensuing years. As a minimum, each parishner is expected to donate at least one day's wage out of each month toward the fund. There have already been several goodly sized contributions made out of the envelope system, both in cash and in agreements to furnish certain parts of the new church's interior furnishings.

A WOMAN'S BATTLE

A woman who is fighting for her health and her family's happiness is a valiant soldier. She wages her battle in her own kitchen. She has no thrilling bugles to cheer her on, no waving banners. Often she becomes discouraged for ill health is a powerful foe to contend with.

For more than half a century, women have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a faithful ally in their struggle for better health.

Have you become discouraged by the same struggle? Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound a chance to be your ally, too.

Mr. Dobbins will probably rebuild the local plant and lines and new switch boards already are on their way here. The two companies serve about eight hundred patrons.

M. G. Smith, who has owned and managed the local plant for the past 15 years, has not fully decided what his new enterprise will be.

The Parent-Teachers' association met at the school building Thursday evening with a fairly good attendance.

The Junior Camp Fire Girls met at the home of their guardian, Mrs. Harold Clark, Thursday evening and elected officers. Gladys Hertz was elected secretary and Clara Wurzbaach, treasurer.

The annual business meeting of the Presbyterian church congregation was held at the church Thursday evening. Reports were given by the several departments and the fiscal year's business was closed.

Dr. Sears of the state board of health who has been examining school pupils for goitre, gave an interesting talk on prevention of goitre here recently. He reported that 70 per cent of children in our schools have more or less growth of that gland. He made the statement that it was about evenly divided among boys and girls. The purpose of the examination was statistical. Susie Decker played a piano selection and refreshments were served.

The "Nautical Knot" an operetta, will be presented in the school auditorium on Friday, under the direction of Mrs. George T. Classon, music instructor. Members of the girls and boys' glee clubs will take part. There will be a matinee at 2:45 Friday afternoon and another production in the evening at 8:15.

MANY SEEKING EGGS OF RING NECK PHEASANT

Special to Post-Crescent
Waukesha—The effort of the Waukesha Fish and Game Protective association to rehabilitate the Golden Ring Neck Pheasant in this section is meeting with considerable success. Last year a number of farmers hatched eggs of these birds and a few were set in the woods. This year a greater attempt is being made to have more persons take setting for hatching purposes. To date nearly 1,000 eggs have been contracted for and others are expected to try out the idea with eggs secured locally. There are about 50 of the beautiful birds at liberty at present in this vicinity.

Harry Ruvin has received a large shipment of the Chinchilla fur bearing rabbits from a breeder in Missouri. Mr. Ruvin is the second to enter the industry in this vicinity. Philip Erickson has a breeding establishment north of this city well established, having had stock and a few were set during the winter. The Chinchilla rabbit is of a fairly large type with a medium short fur and a tough hide which makes the pelt desirable for the fur trade.

The Orville Ballard Post of the American Legion was addressed by County Judge William Martin at the regular meeting Wednesday night. More than a hundred paid up members belong to the local unit.

It was the intention of the Waukesha co jury commission to draw the jury panel for the May term of court on Thursday, but all members could not be present so arrangements were made to conduct the drawing Friday.

The regular May term of circuit court for the seventh judicial district may be important from the standpoint of the jury should the LaValley case come up for trial. The usual panel is 26 names. It is thought that a number of special panels would be necessary should this case be tried here for a third time.

The official canvass of votes by the city council Wednesday night resulted as follows: Mayor—Chandler 918, Itzinger 568; assessor—Barrington 1,250, Hebblewhite 196; alderman First ward—O. E. Hansen 190, Mortenson 183; alderman Fourth ward, Spindt 220, Davidson 128. These were the only contest candidates. A remarkable vote was recorded. With the total population totaling about 2,000, there were 1,432 registered, showing that almost everybody voted.

Judge Park carried Waukesha co by nearly 2,000 votes. In the cities his vote was two to one, while in a few of the rural districts his opponent led by a small margin. Latest returns place his majority at 2,000.

Commissioner Buehler states the patrol men of the county highway system are at work part time. They will gradually increase their hours to full time as soon as weather and road conditions permit.

There will be vesper services at St. Marks church next Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The public is invited.

One of the local merchants is displaying a huge pair of overalls on the front of his establishment. In length they measure 17 feet and are 12 feet across the belt.

her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Huebner.

Arthur Schnell and Florian Preitag were Green Bay callers Tuesday.

Mrs. Leon Krueger is visiting at the home of her parents at Westboro.

ONEIDA ASSESSOR TO RECEIVE $5 PER DAY

Special to Post-Crescent
Oneida—At the business meeting at the election Thursday it was voted to pay the assessor $5 a day for 60 days and $3 a day if it took longer. The town board members and other officers will receive the same salary they did last year. There was $5,000 appropriated for road work and $4,000 for the Cornelius bridge.

The town board was given the power to attend to the Mike Hartman case. Hartman is suing the town for damages he alleges were done by the over-flow of a ditch. The board will either settle the case or take it to court as they see fit.

STAGE AND SCREEN

HAROLD LLOYD IS KNOWN AS BEST FILM "GAG MAN"

Paucity of ideas, is one ailment of the cinema from which Harold Lloyd never appears to suffer. The great comedian is given credit for developing more new comedy themes, situations and ideas than any other man on the screen today. His supply of new material seems inexhaustible. This will be quite apparent to the host of his admirers who see him in "For Heaven's Sake," his first Paramount release, which is now showing at Fischers Appleton theater.

Lloyd is enabled to maintain the pace he has set for individuality because of one thing: He never makes his story idea fit the situations, or "gags" as the funny bits of business he portrays are called in cinema parlance, but makes his "gags" and situations mould into the general theme of his story. For this reason, he cannot use stock material, and thereby avoids the rut into which so many comedians fall.

The comedian is known to have carried in his mind for several years great comedy "gags" to use them only when a situation developed into which they could be logically and legitimately placed.

Lloyd is recognized by close students of motion-picture affairs as the best "gag-man" in Hollywood. His fertile brain has been hailed as the "ideal motion picture mind." Lloyd thinks in picture terms—of action, not words—as will be evidenced by his newest opus, "For Heaven's Sake." It was produced by the Harold Lloyd Corporation.

SURE OF 100 AT ANNUAL DINNER OF CIVIC CLUB

Director of National Chamber of Commerce Is Chief Speaker at Banquet

More than 100 reservations for the annual banquet and meeting of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce at Hotel Northern at 8:15 Monday evening had been received by noon Monday, Hugh G. Corbett, general secretary, announced. Last-minute reservations by telephone poured in all morning, as noon was the latest time at which they could be accepted.

John N. Van der Vries, Chicago, principal speaker, will arrive in the city late Monday afternoon. Mr. Van der Vries, who is manager of the north central division of the chamber of commerce of the United States of America, has chosen for his subject, "What's It All About." He is said to be a speaker of unusual power and his address is being looked forward to with a great deal of enthusiasm, according to Mr. Corbett. Mr. Van der Vries is a director of the Chicago Rotary club. He was on the program of the International Rotary at its convention in Cleveland last June, and was the principal speaker at the meeting to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the founding of Rotary in New York and Chicago last year.

HEAR REPORTS

In addition to the address of Mr. Van der Vries, short talks and reports will be given by Joseph Kofford, Jr., president of the chamber of commerce, Hugh G. Corbett, and others.

The results of the election of directors also will be announced Monday evening. Ten candidates, five of whom will be elected, were nominated by the nominating committee several weeks ago.

The nominees are F. S. Bradford, J. L. Sensenbrenner, Ray H. Purdy, A. H. Wickesberg, D. O. Kinsman, A. C. Scheil, W. O. Theiler, J. R. Whitman, H. Humphrey and M. A. Schuh.

The election will close at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. Ballots were mailed to chamber members several days ago. The election judges are George Wettengel, August Brandt and Fred Schlitz.

A joint meeting of the old and new directors will be held Wednesday evening, April 14, at Hotel Conway. The old directors will retire and the new directors will take over the work at that time.

No word has been received from Max Bub, Milwaukee, vice president of the Allis-Chalmers company and a director of the National Chamber of Commerce, by noon Monday as to whether he will be present at the meeting Monday night. If he comes, he will probably arrive on the same train with Mr. Van der Vries. When asked several weeks ago to address the meeting, Mr. Bub declared it would be impossible for him to promise anything definite. He stated he would come if he was able but that he would not know until the last minute whether he would be able to get away.

NEW JEWELRY FIRM FILES CORPORATION ARTICLES

HUBER AGAIN IN POLITICAL RACE

Lieutenant Governor Announces His Candidacy for Reelection Next Fall

Madison—(P)—Lieutenant Governor Henry A. Huber, Stoughton, was in the field today officially as a candidate for a second term.

Mr. Huber announced his candidacy for renomination in a formal statement in which he said he will "continue to champion the principles of Senator Robert M. La Follette."

"I have served one term as Lieutenant Governor," Mr. Huber said. "No one is suggested to succeed me, and I am led to believe that the progressives wish and expect me to be a candidate to succeed myself in this office."

"As presiding officer of the senate, the office is of much importance in legislation, as possible successor to the Governor it is of equal importance."

"The principles of Senator La Follette, for which he sacrificed and suffered, demand that every friend of our late leader take his place in the fight to continue his policies which have placed Wisconsin in the front rank of progressive states."

"I therefore announce my candidacy as a Progressive Republican for the office of Lieutenant Governor at the coming election."

"I shall make an active and thorough campaign, not so much for myself, but more for the continuation of the policies of Robert Marion La Follette."

FOURTY. M. C. A. CLUBS HOLD MEETINGS TONIGHT

Four clubs of the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A. will hold regular meetings at the association building at 7:30 Monday evening. Routine business will occupy the evening for the Cardinals and Newbies clubs while the Blackhawks will initiate 14 new members and the Vocational "Y" group will adopt a new constitution.

After the initiation the Blackhawks will hold an old-fashioned Indian "pow-wow" for the new members. The Vocational club is adopting a constitution which will admit it as a member of the national Employed Boys Brotherhood.

MEET TUESDAY TO WORK ON SAENGERFEST PLANS

A meeting of the committee in charge of the Saengerfest to be held in this city, July 16, 17 and 18, under the auspices of Appleton Maennerchor will be held at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening at Hotel Excelsior. All members of the committee have been requested to attend as several important matters are to be discussed.

$100 In Prizes For Winners In Masked Players Contest

A "Masked Movie Players" contest sponsored by the Appleton Post-Crescent and the Elito theater will be started next week to give motion picture fans and even casual theater goers a splendid opportunity to win handsome cash prizes by identifying the most famous Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer screen stars. All the contestants have to do is to name these masked artists and send in a snappy slogan for each. Prizes aggregate $100 of which first prize winner will receive $50. There are five other prizes.

The Post-Crescent has completed arrangements whereby the Elito theater will run a series of four short reels of masked Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer players, two reels daily each week, beginning Monday, April 12, at which time will be seen the first two groups of screen favorites who may threaten your head easily recognized in spite of the masks.

On the same day in the Post-Crescent there will appear the official Masked Players contest coupon. Those who enter the contest merely clip this coupon and fill it in with the name of each star believed to be appearing behind the mask. Directly below the line on the coupon for the name of the star there is another blank line in which the contestant should write what he or she believes a befitting slogan for that player.

The real importance of this contest from the viewpoint of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lies in the value of these suggested slogans. Who knows but that some Appleton person may suggest a slogan for Norma Shearer or Lon Chaney which the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer organization may adopt permanently? In that event, the local resident would have the satisfaction of seeing his or her slogan blazoned in electric lights, on bill-boards and in newspapers throughout the nation.

Everyone knows Mary Pickford as "America's Sweetheart." But what about slogans for Carmel Myers, Lew Cody, Lon Chaney, Renee Novarro, John Gilbert, Ramon Novarro, Aileen

A. A. L. EXPANDS ITS HOME OFFICE QUARTERS

A two room office suite on the fifth floor of the Insurance-bldg, now occupied by C. E. Heinke referee in bankruptcy, will be remodeled into office rooms for G. D. Ziegler, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans, this week, it was announced Saturday by Mr. Ziegler. The rapid growth of the association during the last year has made more office space necessary. Mr. Heinke will move his office to room 307 on the third floor of the Insurance-bldg.

Mr. Ziegler's present office will be occupied by William H. Zuehlke, treasurer of the association and Albert Voeks, secretary. will have his

The actual unmasking of the various players should not be a difficult task for a motion picture fan, or anyone who is only a casual movie goer. Plenty of clues and tip-offs as to the identity of each artist will be given daily in the Post-Crescent. In some cases the initials of the names are given. In others the first names are given and there are numerous suggestions to titles of the pictures in which the stars have appeared within the last six months.

An important angle of the contest is that there will undoubtedly be quite a number of participants, who will guess the entire list of players names correctly. The prizes, therefore, will be awarded among those sending in the correct names who suggest the best slogans.

There is no obligation on the part of any contestant. Merely clip the official Masked Players contest coupon, attend the Elito theater next week and the week following and after seeing the Masked Players reel fill in the coupon. After the two weeks of the contest the coupon for each week should be mailed to the Masked Players Contest, Editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

GULBRANSEN The Registering Piano

Because you cannot play have you allowed the greatest joy of music to elude you?

You are seated at your piano—playing. Your mood—something of your very self—has entered into the music—your music. Your touch, your expression, your personality give color to the melody.

You are expressing yourself in the most wonderful of languages—the language of music. Nothing can take the place of this—just listening cannot compare!

You need no musical training to play the Gulbransen. It plays by itself—yet you control its playing. You can hush it to a whisper, or release its clear, sweet tones in brilliant volume. You can play fast or slow, accent melody and harmony notes, accompany voices or other instruments. It is simple and easy.

Be sure that the piano you select bears the name "Gulbransen." For only the Gulbransen can give you the musical enjoyment you have so often longed for. A small cash payment will put the Gulbransen Registering Piano in your home. Subsequent payments to suit your convenience. Allowance will be made for your present piano or other musical instrument.

Mail This for Grand Piano Floor Pattern.

HEALTH OFFICER ORDERS CLEAN UP OF CITY

Neenah—A general cleaning up of the city has been ordered by Dr. N. H. Papp, city health officer, who has issued notices to property owners to make all effort to rid the premises of garbage collected during the winter months. Garbage collection days will be set at the next meeting of the city council. The order from the health officer warns against throwing rubbish in the river.

PREPARE NEENAH FREE CAMPSITE

Neenah—This city will make every effort this season to attract the tourists to its camp site located on the lawn of the water works station. The supervisor of the premises has already started work in putting the place in shape to receive the visitors. Last year the official count of patrons showed that over 1,000 parties stopped at the camp which is located on the lake shore with plenty of excellent bathing and fishing.

Added features are to be installed at the camp this year for comfort of those who wish to stop on their trips through. An effort was made last year by some of the aldermen to have the camp discontinued but the demand of the tourists to be allowed to stop there made the project more interesting to the city which voted to keep the place open and to invite visitors instead of turning them away.

Neenah Getting Ready to Entertain Tourists During Driving Season

SEEK TO ROUT PNEUMONIA

Physicians are now studying diligently new serums by which it is hoped to reduce the pneumonia death rate considerably. It is estimated by conservative medical statisticians that in the United States annually 140,000 persons die directly and indirectly from the disease. Heart disease comes however to be the principal cause of death.

RAPID PROGRESS SHOWN BY MOVIES, SAYS LON CHANEY

Veteran Actor Reminisces on the Old Days in Moving Picture Industry

New York—(P)—Lon Chaney looks back to the motion picture days when the directing staff filled one automobile with gun powder and cameras, another with actors, and then took them out for a drive in the country. When the party returned it usually carried an episode of a serial.

"That was how pictures were made in the days of yore," said Chaney, who today is Metro-Goldwyn's character star. "Five dollars a day was big pay and many a player, who now has reached movie heights, was glad to get it. Mary Pickford once drew that kind of a check, so did Ray Tinsley and many another big name."

"Chaney has been through the repertoire of the lots. He was a 'heavy,' assistant director, character man and general factotum in the primitive time when thrillers photographed under the sunlight were the rule and the Kleig light still was dream."

Dancer, director and even stage hand were the roles he essayed in the legitimate theatre before he tried his luck before the camera.

"We had to depend on sunlight, of course, and such a thing as using a reflector was never heard of," declared Chaney. "A script usually was written on the back of an envelope."

"And within a few years we have the great feature picture like 'Ben Hur,' lighting effects such as grace productions like 'The Torrent' and large studies where every branch of science was put to difficult problems."

"The much mooted question of stars' salaries is another instance of evolution—or rather of getting things down to a business basis. At first salaries were almost nothing. Then came a period of hysteria when enormous salaries lured stage stars."

"De Wolf Hopper, Raymond Hitchcock, William S. Hart, Douglas Fairbanks and many others left the footlights, lured by glittering wealth. Hart and Fairbanks are about the only ones who learned the screen was a different vehicle from the stage—and they stuck. The others, including George Arliss, took a whirl at it and then returned to the footlights."

"These salaries almost caused chaos in the business end of the industry and then business sense began to rule. Salaries were adjusted on the basis of what a picture could bring in. Today salaries are fair; a just percentage of the possibilities of a picture."

FIRST NOVELIST GETS HONOR

James Fenimore Cooper, America's first representative novelist, is being accorded a new and lasting honor by Yale University. It will be in the name of a Cooper room at the Sterling memorial library. Among other memorabilia will be the manuscript of "Leatherstocking Tales," and three diaries of the author. "The Spy," "Pioneers" and "The Pilot" all were written before Cooper was thirty-five years old and they constitute a trilogy sufficient to give him lasting fame.

What Do You Know About Salads And Salad Making?

Canned foods lend themselves so readily to successful salad making that every housekeeper should endeavor to have in reserve a small stock of the fish, fruits, and vegetables which are most popular for this form of cookery, for the emergencies which arise in even the most perfectly managed household.

With a bottle or two of prepared salad dressing in the pantry she may in the twinkling of an eye add a salad course to her menu and such a salad course too, as would not be possible were she to rely solely on the green goods available in the market.

But to do this she will need the recipe booklet on canned foods which this Bureau has for free distribution. This booklet tells how to prepare 25 salads and 10 different salad dressings.

It is yours for the asking. Just enclose 2 cents in stamps for return postage.

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

Received your note, my dear Leslie, this morning. It was very sweet of you to take the trouble to write to me the moment you arrived at your destination. I had hardly finished reading your letter when your husband came in and read me parts of the one you had written him.

It must be very sad for poor Ruth Burke when she has added to her own physical ills and fears this terrible thing that has come to her husband. I used to envy her and think that while she, perhaps, was no more deserving than I, she must be having a much happier time of it.

Of course, I knew she wasn't very happy with her first husband, and neither was I, and I said to myself "Waiter Burke is making up to her for all this."

Today, Leslie, I'm a little mixed up about it all. Taking it altogether, I don't believe that Ruth or even you are happier than I. I have seen enough lately among my married friends to know that life, yes life and love, are mostly fifty-fifty propositions. If you do not once in a while run into unhappiness on your own account, you are sure to be more unhappy when the one you love gets into trouble.

You will notice, dear, that I say, "when the one you love, gets into trouble." When one loves much, one must have a very deep knowledge of what that love is costing him. I have never been able to realize, or rather determine which were the best. Having love, there almost always comes a time when one wonders if the possession is worth the heartache it entails. Even when two people are as devoted as are Ruth and her husband, there is more or less unhappiness caused through circumstances over which neither has any control.

For instance, I know Ruth is much more troubled over her husband's gunshot wound than he is himself, and he, of course, is worrying for fear something will happen to her when her baby is born.

I am feeling greatly disappointed my dear Leslie, for I am afraid you will not be home when Paula Verier is here. I counted so much on seeing you two women together, for you know, I thought of all the women I have known, you and Paula are the finest.

And yet, you are so totally different from each other. You both seem to have the same understanding and that seems very strange to me, for each of you must have reached it along entirely different paths.

If I did not know better, I would say you both had suffered grievously and come through it purifying fires triumphant.

TOMORROW—Letter from Sally Atherton to Leslie Prescott.

cranking organs in London before the war. Now there are only three or four," says Luigi Resacca, who has been making hand organs and "band music" for fifty years. Nearly 100 hand organs continue to moan in the narrow canyons of London streets, but the Italians with their performing monkeys and bears are back at home practising the fascist salute.

In their places are blinded or crippled war veterans. Occasionally an ex-officer with a black mask over his face stands stiffly at the head of an organ. Other organ grinders bring their wives or children to stand by them and collect pennies.

Unemployed ex-service men have supplanted Italian organ grinders in the streets of London. A fascist editor withheld passports from organ grinders because such means of livelihood derogates from the prestige of fascist Italy.

There were nearly 1,000 Italians

SATURDAY GAMES
 Fox River Paper Co. 30, Menasha Paper & Carton Co. 14.
 Neenah Kimberly-Clark 2, Coated Paper Co. 0 (forfeit)
 Pickups 50, Neenah Kimberly-Clark 21.

Taking a six-point lead in the first half and then driving through the defense of the Menasha Printing and Carton Co. cage five time after time in the final period the Fox River Paper Co. quint whopped the Pail crew, 30-14 in a Y. M. C. A. indoor cage game Saturday night. The win cinched the second rung of the loop for the Baetzmen and kept them in the running for top honors with the leading Galpin Hardware. The Baetzmen were in third place on the heels of the Fox River crew and a win would have given them the second hole.

In the other game the Neenah Kimberly-Clark quint went into a tie for fourth place with the Citizens Bank crew when the cellar Coated Paper Co. five failed to show up and the battle was forfeited. A pickup "bunch" composed of stars of the other league teams beat the K-C boys, 50-21.

Both the Galpin Hardware, loop leaders, and the Baetzmen have two postponed games to play this week. If the Galpin win both they will take the league banner by a game while a loss the Baetzmen are winning two will tie the race. The Galpin are favored as they played the Neenah K-C and Kimberly club fives, while the Fox River boys encounter the Kimberly club men and the Citizens Bank team, now one of the best in the loop and a crew which beat the Galpin last week.

In the big game of the evening, the Baetzmen lead 15-10 at the half and held their opponents to a basket and two free throws in the final period while adding 14 points to their scores. "Sam" and "Ray" turned at forward and "Cave" Radtke at center scored all the winner's points with Cave scoring five field goals, Son four, and Ray six. Remmel and Meyer starred for the losers.

CHICK EVANS—POINTERS ON PRACTICE

A good idea is to put up three small flags or markers—sticks with a bit of white cloth attached. Arrange these in the form of a scalene triangle. This enables you to hit a long shot, a medium shot and a short one. You can play all these with a maul, but a better idea is to use a longer iron or a brassie for the long shot and use the maul only when you apply out to the ball to make it hold where it falls. The cut shot should not be attempted on distances less than 80 to 125 yards.

Go around this miniature three-flag course with a half dozen balls and keep one thing constantly in mind: Never fail to complete the shots regardless of whether they are good or bad. The shots which, as a matter of preference, you do not care to make will be the ones that will give you your best practice and shine up your game.

The effect of such practice, along this definite line, is truly amazing. Willie Hunter, the English amateur champion, worked to the same principle at the last national amateur championship, on a strange-to-him course and a most difficult one.

MALOUF, PIERCE LEAD DOUBLES IN EAGLE PIN MEET

Pierce and Burnside Tied for Lead in Singles With High Scores of 609

With over 100 entries already having rolled in the Eagle alley bowling tournament which still is underway, Pierce and Burnside are tied for the lead in the singles with a 609 score and Bernhardt is a close third with a 607. In the doubles Malouf and Pierce lead the pinners with a 1314 mark and Moll and Johnston are next with 1288. Scores follow:

Singles—W. Pierce, 609; Burnside, 609; Bernhardt, 607; Malouf, 595; C. Currie, 587; W. Kostitzke, 583.

Doubles—Malouf-Pierce, 1314; Moll-Johnston, 1288; Wellhouse-Verboten, 1267; Kene-Kunitz, 1240; C. Currie-Bernhardt, 1238; Wellhouse-Yelg, 1233; Moll-Yelg, 1227; Herman Strutz-Retson, 1225; A. DARBOY MAPLE FIVE BEAT LITTLE CHUTE

Spranger's Night Hawks of Darboy took two out of three games from the Grezorian Five of Little Chute in a match rolled on the Chute alleys, winning the match by 111 pins. John Ashauer had high game for the winners, a 168 while Matt Van Groll was high for the losers with a 157. The Chute took the first game by 19 pins but were swamped in the next two.

Spranger's Night Hawks of Darboy—Won 2, Lost 1—Anton Spranger 123, 131, 145; John Ashauer 134, 146, 160; Wm. Kamke 161, 135, 142; John Behling 124, 120, 118; Jacob J. Henk 121, 112, 119. Totals 663, 644, 692, 2059.

SPORTS DEPRIVE GIRLS OF GRACE EXPERTS SAY

English girls' keenness for athletics and field sports has robbed them of the grace essential for such occupations as mannequin, say some of the fashion experts, and as a result there is a dearth of models for the spring dress parades.

There are about 20,000 mannequins in London, but this number is not sufficient for the rush season. The big stores handling smart gowns have been advertising for models but many of the applicants have turned away for the reason that they are too well developed.

As a result of this dearth of models, professional frog-leg mannequins who supplement the permanent staffs of the fashion houses, are reaping a harvest in cash. They get about two pounds a session and are able to do two shows a day. The ordinary rate of pay is four or five pounds weekly, with meals. Junior mannequins received from two pounds to two pounds and a half a week.

Few Fighters Come Back After K. O. By Dempsey

They never seem to come back after being floored for the fatal count of 10 by Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, idle for to, these past many months.

A review of Dempsey's fist career displays the fact that he has halted many an ambitious fighter and many who perhaps weren't quite so ambitious.

Jim Flynn flopped as a drawing card after Dempsey got through with him years ago.

Fred Fulton never amounted to much after Dempsey dropped him in 13 seconds at Harrison, N. J.

Bill Miske was killed as a drawing card, and as a fighter as well, when Dempsey flattened him.

Jess Willard never amounted to much after Dempsey flattened him at Toledo.

He retired for a period of four years after losing to Dempsey. He then essayed a comeback, beating Floyd Johnson in 11 rounds and losing to Firpo in eight.

In 1921 Georges Carpentier came within close range of Dempsey's vicious attack. In the fourth round Carpentier went down under the battering fists of Dempsey, his fighting heart crushed beyond repair.

Tommy Gibbons stuck 15 rounds with Dempsey but hasn't been the same scrapper since. The terrible stomach punishment Gibbons absorbed in the Shelby bout slowed him down noticeably and made him soft picking for Gene Tunney.

Came then the Wild Bull of the Pampas to test his skill against Jack Dempsey. Such a wild fight the present generation of ring followers never watched, either before or since.

And Firpo amounted to little or nothing after Dempsey had taken his measure in such bloody fashion.

Who'll be next to fall before this slaughtering attack? Or will the tables turn and have Dempsey going down, never to be able to come back?

Say what they will of Dempsey, the champion who knocked out 25 opponents in the very first round has practically ended the careers of the seven pugilists listed above.

HARRIS FIGURES BUSH TO STAR

JOE BUSH IN ACTION

Tampa, Fla.—"Bullet Joe" Bush of the Washington Senators is here depicted getting his trusty right finger into shape at the training camp of the American League champions.

Bush, a veteran of many seasons, was acquired from the Browns during the winter and is being counted strongly upon by Manager Harris in the coming campaign. Harris figures Bush will win at least 15 games, possibly 20, which, naturally, would aid the Nats' cause to an appreciable extent.

APPLETON TEAMS SPLIT EVEN IN MATCHES AT BAY

Handball Men Lose Every Tilt to Baymen; Volleyballers Take Easy Wins

Appleton, Y. M. C. volleyball and handball players who invaded Green Bay for matches with stars of Bay association Saturday evening, split even in the contests, losing every handball match and coping in volleyball. The handball matches were hard fought especially in the doubles where one game of each set was an extra point tilt.

In the singles, Enger of Appleton, lost to Born, 21-0 and 21-7; Murray, Appleton, lost to Grimm, 21-14, and 21-14; R. J. Meyer, Appleton, lost to Goldstein in three games, 21-2, 4-21 and 21-4. In the doubles Denny and Wesco of Appleton, lost to Xen and Simpson, 18-21, 21-8, 22-20; Gerhardt and Zaunmeyer, Appleton, lost to Benzie and Miller, 17-21, 21-17, 22-20; F. Wheeler and A. P. Jensen, Appleton, lost to Krueger and Kispert, 14-21, 21-19, 22-20.

The Appleton volleyball squad consisting of Alfred Bradford, John Bartman, A. C. Renney, F. C. Renner, R. V. Landis and John Neller, beat the Bay netball men, 15-2, 15-4 and 15-7. Return matches in both sports will be played in this city early in May, Mr. Jensen said.

TAYLOR, SENCIO SCRAP AROUSES MUCH INTEREST

Joey Cline, Crack Cream City Featherweight, in Battle on Milwaukee Card

Milwaukee—Not since the night Pete Sarmiento and Ernie Goozeman fought their historic battle in the auditorium has any bout carded for Milwaukee aroused such interest as the coming clash between the spectacular Sencio and Bud Taylor. This scrap, which will be held before Frank Mulken's club, April 19, has the town by the ears, and there has been such a steady clamor for tickets that the entire auditorium will probably be used for the battle. The price of $4.00 top for the ringside seats, with plenty of ducks at prices ranging down to $1.50, has made a hit with fans, and there was a big line in front of the club headquarters when the pasteboards were first put on sale. As usual, however, Milwaukee has set aside several sections of the choice seats for out of town fans, and those who make their reservations early are sure to get their pick of the best seats in the immense arena.

Terra Haute, which proudly claims Taylor as its son, will send a big delegation here for the bout. The Hoosier town is going hook, line and sinker on Taylor but Milwaukee likes the chances of the whirlwind Philpino, and it will cover all the money that the Indiana sporting men bring here.

Sencio, according to those who have seen him fight is even more of a buzzsaw in the ring than that wonderful thrill producer, Peter Sarmiento. He fights with the same eager aggressiveness, keeps going at top speed all the way and is always willing to stick himself. Taylor, loves this sort of battling so the bout is sure to produce one thrill on top of another. "It's one of those fights that can't go wrong," said a member of the boxing commission Monday. "This is one scrap that I surely want to see."

In addition to his deluxe windup Mulken is arranging a classy set of prelims. In the semi windup he will show two of the best lightweights in the west and in one of the other bouts will feature Herbie Schaefer against Joey Cline, the crack Milwaukee featherweight. A high class curtain raiser will also be staged. The semi has not been arranged as yet but Mulken is dickering with two of the crack 135 pounders, who make their headquarters in Chicago and are expected to announce the match in a day or two.

The hope of the Senators to annex three pennants in a row is based on that same list of veterans who twice have turned the trick. Washington will face the Philadelphia Athletics, with a world series combination, with the veteran Walter Johnson the pos-

Pirates, Senators, 1925 Champions, Are Favorites As 1926 Loop Race Starts

Athletics, Browns Strong in American League; Giants, Cards Possible Winners

Chicago—(AP)—The tumult and shouting that died last October begins again Tuesday in the major baseball world. The captains and the kings of swat have returned to their northern habitat after limbering up in southern and western training camps, bent on claiming their ancient heritage of pounding the pill around the meadows for hits that spell runs, that win games and eventually capture pennants. The sixteen American and National league teams that enter the 1926 lists contain both known and unknown possibilities. The strength of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, and the Washington Senators, winners of the American title, is not denied in any quarter. The dopests figure each for first place in their respective leagues, but several other strong contenders for the crown are strong in the betting, and one or two dark horses may appear before October days.

The Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Browns loom as formidable contenders in the American race while McGraw's New York Giants and Hornsby's St. Louis Cardinals are two teams at least that stand in the way of a repeat by the Pirates. In fact McGraw says that only injuries can defeat him.

Along with the teams that apparently will have no look in on the money are several remodeled aggregations of youngsters fired with youth and enthusiasm whose possibilities can only be revealed in the heat of battle.

As usual a number of familiar faces will be missing from Tuesday's opening lineup, but the list of cripples is not nearly so long as that presented in the 1925 season.

The champion Pirates appear to be about as hard hit as any. Their first line of defense will be impaired when they take on the Cards at St. Louis.

One new manager makes his bow to the majors—Joe McCarthy of the Chicago Cubs. He piloted Louisville to a pennant last year and the Cub fanatics bent on putting the Chicago team in the running if it costs a million, turned him loose to whip a team of youngsters into veteran material.

Several teams, particularly the Senators, will open the year with virtually the same lineup that figured in the last game of 1925.

The hope of the Senators to annex three pennants in a row is based on that same list of veterans who twice have turned the trick. Washington will face the Philadelphia Athletics, with a world series combination, with the veteran Walter Johnson the possible pitching selection and Ruel behind the bat. The St. Louis Nationals had a big season in Texas, cutting a remarkable swath of pre-season victories, and the same team that has been connecting regularly in the southland will oppose the Pittsburgh Pirates. The St. Louis Browns and the Chicago White Sox open in Chicago with Sisler planning to use the same team he has cleaned up with in exhibition games, with Milton Gaston the hurling possibility. Collins has about the same aggregation that, finished fifth last year the principal addition being Everett Scott, dropped by Washington.

The Cincinnati Reds mix on the home grounds with the Cubs. As in previous years, the veteran Pete Donahue will open for the Reds, while another veteran, Alexander, may take the mound for the Cubs.

Plenty of optimism is registered from the camp of the New York Giants. McGraw has the same formidable pitching staff and infield as in 1925. The New York Yankees will present a remodeled infield, and the third of greater New Yorks baseball squads, the Brooklyn Dodgers, also will show some new faces.

Tracy Cobb of the Detroit Tigers, is experimenting with a new infield combination, the effectiveness of which will be demonstrated when it has been under fire for a while. George Duess and Earl Whiteball are mentioned as opening pitchers. The Boston Braves open the National season against the Phillies in the Quaker City.

Speaker's Indians will start the pre-season season with virtually the 1925 lineup.

COZY DOLAN COACHES OSHKOSH BALL SQUAD

Oshkosh—Oshkosh will have a first-class semi-pro team again this season. The Kitz and Pfeil Hardware team will be reorganized sometime this week. Last season this club established a good record, defeating some of the state's best clubs, such as Merrill, Wausau, Mayville, Rockford, Ill., Chicago Giants and Illinois Giants. Cozy Dolan will probably coach the club again. Address all communications to Oshkosh Baseball Club, Box 318.

Support Dry Law, Is Women's Plea

Missouri, spoke for the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

"The W. C. T. U. is mobilizing half a million of women for law enforcement," she said. "The working men may demand the return of light wine and beer, but the wives and children of the working men who for the first time have decent clothing and food will not join in that demand."

Looking straight at Senator Reed, she added that "Prohibition has been immeasurably bent to my home state of Missouri." She read from a newspaper that from 6 a. m. April 7 to 6 a. m. April 2, there was not a single arrest in St. Louis. "That was so startling that I really became nervous," interrupted Senator Reed. "Do you know whether that resulted in the fact that the police were off duty, or on the Great Moral Wave sweeping over the city?"

"I hope it was due to the moral wave," said Mrs. Burger as the crowd laughed.

WETS ARE NOT THROUGH

Washington, D. C. (AP)—The Senate prohibition hearing was turned over to the drys Monday with the consent of the wet leaders, who still have 11 hours left of the time allotted them for presentation of their case for liberalization of the Volstead act.

The one-day suspension of wet case was agreed upon to accommodate a delegation of 25 women representing the Women's National committee for law enforcement which opened a three-day meeting Sunday with addresses urging rigid enforcement of the prohibition law and opposition to modification.

The large delegation of women, headed by Mrs. Henry W. Prabody, of Beverly, Mass., chairman of the committee, arranged to divide the time for presentation of their views to the senate committee by adding each member one minute during Monday's hearing.

The wet side was not completely eliminated from the day's proceedings, however. Representative Gallivan, Democrat, Massachusetts, having prepared a statement for the record assailing the Volstead act as the most un-American law that was ever put upon the statutes; and asserting that, instead of being removed from election campaigns as predicted before its enactment, prohibition "is now the liveliest issue in national politics."

HOLD PRAYER MEETING

Prayers and mass meetings of protest against liberalization of the law were held throughout the country to coincide with the women's law enforcement meeting. Delegates at the meeting, including the Rev. E. E. Pultz, pastor of Mount Pleasant Methodist Episcopal church, South, called upon his congregation Sunday to assemble Monday morning in front of the capitol to participate in a meeting and silent prayer for continuation of the present restrictions. The women's meeting was opened with a message from President Coolidge in which he said "this earnest manifestation of interest in enforcement of law is gratifying."

"Such interest on the part of these women is not officially connected with the execution of law," he said, "is heartening to those charged with that responsibility."

Chairman Hudson of the house alcoholic liquor traffic committee in a prepared address, contended the "Quebec plan" of government control of the liquor traffic, which was described as successful by Canadian witnesses before the senate committee Saturday, as being the outgrowth of heavy activity to buy off prohibitionists. He said that the Canadian government is frankly in the liquor business and is pushing the trade vigorously, although the whole system is supposed to promote temperance.

STANDARD OIL EMPLOYEES CUT MELON IN MAY

Fourteen Men in Appleton Organization Share in Stock-buying Plan

Fourteen Appleton employees of the Standard Oil company (Indiana) will benefit from the stock buying project of 15,000 employees of that organization and its subsidiary, the Midwest Refining company, which ran up $11,600,000 worth of stock purchased five years ago to a present value of $25,500,000, it was made known in Appleton Friday by J. W. Miller, manager of the local branch of the organization.

The fourteen Appleton employees who share in the investment are Mr. Miller, Burt Cowan, Harm E. Tornow, Grover Smith, Carl Ullman, Victor Panfield, Henry Meidam, Albert Selig, John Green, J. B. Wieland, Harry De Bruin, George Hoelzel, G. B. Hirs, Korn and C. G. Guckenberger. The proverbial melon is scheduled to be divided in May. When the 200,000 shares which are to be distributed are placed in possession of the employees they will own as a group 4.2 per cent of the total outstanding stock of the Standard Oil company (Indiana).

The company announced a second stock purchase plan along slightly modified lines. Those employees who participated from the very beginning in the employees' stock purchase plan and subscribed during the entire five-year period for the maximum of 20 per cent of their salary, will have made a profit of one hundred and fifteen per cent on their investment, Mr. Miller stated.

The arrangement under which the successful stock investment was made is known as the First Employees' Stock Purchase Plan. The newly authorized stock sale to employees will be known as the Second Employees' Stock Purchase Plan.

The old plan, which started on April 1, 1921, provided that employees could take stock value amounting to 20 per cent of their annual income, although some took 10, some five and still some as low as 2 per cent.

For every dollar the employees invested the company added 50 cents. The 50 cents put in by the company for the employees who quit in the interval reverted to the employees who remained. That sum in the aggregate is known as the "kitty" and it will be divided when the melon is split during May.

For the new or second stock purchase plan, which will run over a three year period, the company allows the employees to take only 10 per cent of their annual income, and those employees participating must also retain two-thirds of the stock they had in the first plan.

BOARD WILL LOAN FARMERS MONEY

Annuity Board of State Retirement System Offers Cash on Farms

The annuity board of the state retirement system which administers the teachers' pension fund, has money to loan to Wisconsin farmers, John E. Hantschel, county clerk, was advised in a letter received Friday from that body.

"The board is making two kinds of loans," the letter states. "The ordinary loan for a period of from two to ten years, on which the applicant has the privilege of making payments on principal in multiples of $100 on an interest date and the amortized loan, payable (principal and interest) in 25 years, with 70 equal semi-annual payments. The borrower, however, has the privilege of making as many extra payments on the principal as he wishes on any interest paying date, and thus reducing the number of semi-annual payments required."

"The interest rate on all farm loans is 5 per cent, payable semi-annually."

WRISTON WILL ADDRESS GRADUATES AT RACINE

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, is to be the chief speaker at the graduation exercises of Racine high school on June 18, it was announced Thursday. President Wriston will address the largest graduation class in the history of the high school, it is said.

ADD SIX CITIES TO AIR MAIL SERVICE

United States air mail service has been extended to six more cities, Postmaster W. H. Zuehlke was informed Friday.

The cities on the new list of stops include Moine, Ill., St. Joseph and Kansas City, Mo., Wichita, Kans., Oklahoma City, Okla., and Ft. Worth, Tex. This mail service will make connection with Chicago, according to the postal bulletin.

NEW BILL WOULD OFFER FARMERS CHEAP DYNAMITE

Congressman Schneider Introduces Measure for Explosive Distribution

Congressman George J. Schneider of Appleton, is championing the cause of farmers desiring to reclaim cut over forest land areas, in a bill he introduced in the house of representatives which calls for cheap distribution of dynamite to the tillers of the soil.

In support of his bill Mr. Schneider says, "cheap and effective explosives are a vital factor in farming on the cut-over forest land areas. You may recall that in the spring of 1924 the government in one of its own publications published information to the effect that the stock of surplus government war explosives was then about exhausted, but pressure from the farm area was so great that government experts were put to the task of trying to prepare an explosive to meet the needs of the farmers at a reasonable price, with the result that the new explosive "pyratol" has been distributed in the past two years. "I am now definitely informed that the present government supply of "pyratol" and other explosives will be exhausted this coming summer, and therefore, unless my bill is passed by congress and becomes a law, the farmers of upper Wisconsin will be confronted with the need of buying commercial dynamite at market prices which I understand, is $20 to $25 per hundred for 40 per cent dynamite."

Mr. Schneider's bill calls for an appropriation of $20,000,000 to be expended in carrying out the provisions of the bill at the rate of $2,000,000 per year for ten years.

Farmers advocating the passage of this bill are asked to petition The Hon. Gilbert N. Haugen, chairman

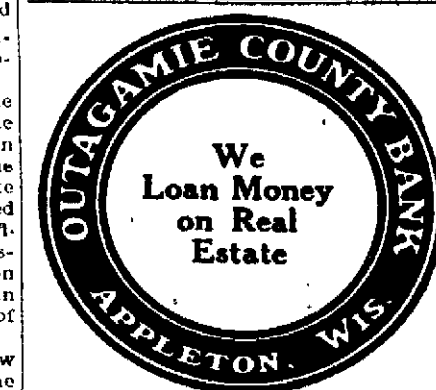

TEACH BADGER HISTORY IN JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Students entering the senior high school next year and in years to come will have a much better knowledge and understanding of their own state than present and former high school students have had because a special committee on Agriculture, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., to report bill number H. R. 10826 providing for agricultural relief and the free government distribution of dynamite, fuse and caps to settlers for reclaiming and clearing cut over forest lands, introduced by Congressman Schneider, to the house for consideration and adoption.

history course on Wisconsin has been introduced in the ninth grade of the junior high schools. The next book used is entitled "Our Wisconsin" and is written by E. G. Doudna, superintendent of schools at Wisconsin Rapids. The book traces the history of the state from 1634 when the first white man set forth on Wisconsin soil down to the present time, devoting some chapters to the part the Badger state played in the great events of United States history and others to significant happenings in Wisconsin history. There are also chapters on "Wisconsin in Industry," "Wisconsin in Literature" and "The Growth of the Public School."

Previous to this time only a few days were devoted to the study of the Badger state either in a general course in geography or as a part of a United States history course.
